

The Granpa Construction Puppetmobile Press Release - By Jay Ramseyer

Watch Out for Granpa Driving in His Construction Truck on the Grounds This Year

Come to this year's event prepared to encounter some construction taking place on the grounds. Its Granpa driving around in his miniature construction truck giving out construction tips, free remodeling estimates and lot's of one liners from the good ole days. It's all part of the free shows you can see going on at our event this year. Granpa will be inviting you to visit him on YouTube or at his big stage show that takes place everyday on our grounds. Your kids will love following Granpa around the grounds in his miniature construction truck and they can follow him all across the country by joining thousands of others on his face book page.

Adults love Granpa as he teaches the kids the importance of following instructions. Watch out though, his miniature truck sometimes springs a leak and unexpectedly squirts water right out into the crowd. Granpa claims to be a good plumber, too, but we'll see how that works out in his big stage show. Granpa has been seen by millions of kids all around the world at events like ours on virtually every major network and now you'll get to be with him up close and personal at our event. Granpa loves to shake hands, give out hugs and pose for photographs with your kids.

Kids today have so many entertainment choices and so often that entertainment is empty of real lessons the kids can take home with them and live, but no so with Granpa. Granpa says every time kids visit him they always learn something new they can remember and live by. He says God made Grandpa's and Grandma's to help moms and dads raise the next generation full of sugar and good lessons from the good ole days that will help them live good lives. This award winning show is made available to you as part of our event's free on grounds entertainment and is paid for by our fine sponsors as our way of caring about your children and saying "Thank you!" for coming out and supporting our event.

You can learn more about Granpa by going to our web site and clicking on the Granpa button. Your kids will be able to watch videos and play video games with Granpa. Of course, they always teach a great lesson. You can also go to Youtube.com/granpacratchet and watch hundreds of videos that teach all about farm life, inventions and the good old days.

Granpa says, "All you out there make sure and come see me at the fair and make sure and pay up your pedestrian insurance in case I forget my glasses. Hey, if you don't like the way I drive, stay off the sidewalk!" Your kids can even go to a Granpa camp and see how it's all done behind the scenes and be part of producing a skit on the Granpa Cratchet Allstar TV Network. Just visit our web site and click on the Granpa button and then make sure and come out and see him live at this year's event.
